Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice unto them, shake the hand,

I have also called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them rejoicing in my highness.

The noise of a multitude in the mountains, as of a great people;
Bbm Em Bbm Em
a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: The Lord of Hosts musters the host of the battle.
C D Em C
They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, the Lord and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.

C D Em C C D Em
Howl ye; for the day of the Lord is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.

Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt:
Bbm Em
And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them;
Em C D Em C D Em
they shall be in pain as a woman in labor: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be as flames.
Em C D Em C D Em
Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger,
C D Em C C D Em
to lay the land desolate: and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.
Em Bbm Em
For the stars of heaven and Orion shall not cause their light to shine:
Bbm Em
the sun darkened in his going forth, and the moonlight shall not shine.
C D Em C D Em
And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity;
C D Em C C D Em
and I will cause to cease the arrogancy of the proud, and lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.
Em C D Em C D Em
I will make a man more rare than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir.
C D Em C D Em
Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place,
C D Em C D Em
in the wrath of the LORD of Hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.
Em Bbm Em
And it shall be as the chased gazelle, and as a sheep that none collects:
Bbm Em Bbm Em
they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.
